Community room upgrade (Stronger Communities Fund)

In June, Council adopted a suite of key strategic documents including its first Community Strategic Plan (CSP) which identifies the community's vision for the future, outlines long term goals and the strategies to get there.

The CSP guides all Council's plans, policies and budgets. Read more about Council's first CSP on page 2.

Council also adopted the first Inner West Council four year Delivery Program, and second integrated budget and operational plan.

Local infrastructure will benefit from a record spend of $77 million this financial year, while $85 million will be spent over four years on roads, footpaths and stormwater, and $6 million upgrading town halls.

A major commitment of the Delivery Program is reducing infrastructure backlogs, and maintaining vital assets such as roads, parks and community buildings, in a cost-effective way.

MESSAGE FROM INNER WEST MAYOR,
DARCY BYRNE

Lifting the bar on services

Council is putting forward a budget that is aimed at modernising our services, infrastructure and financial management.

We are protecting everything that was good about the Ashfield, Marrickville and Leichhardt councils. We are also raising the bar, making Council more professional and more accountable to the local community.

The State Government's promise of improved customer service as a result of amalgamation hasn't come to fruition yet, but a new system will be rolled out this year to fix the problems and allow residents to make and track service requests online.

Council will also deliver an estimated 4% ($5-7 million) in savings by instituting a target for all managers in every unit of Council. This will drive efficiency and save ratepayers' money.

There are some very exciting projects in the budget.

These include:

- $31 million for a new state-of-the-art aquatic centre in Ashfield
- $65 million for parks, sporting fields and recreation facilities over the next three years
- $85 million over four years for roads, footpaths, stormwater drains
- $23 million to complete the GreenWay pedestrian and cycle & biodiversity corridor
- $600,000 to create our own Inner West alternative to Vivid that brings the people into existing Inner West arts-based businesses
- A new rebate (approximately $400) on waste charges for pensioners in Ashfield and Marrickville (bringing it into line with the former Leichhardt Council's policy)
- Turning the parking meters off at night in Balmain, Rozelle and Leichhardt, and reducing parking fees by $660,000

This budget is a step towards our goal of delivering the highest quality services and infrastructure of any local government in Australia.

OUR INNER WEST 2036

Inner West's first Community Strategic Plan

Inner West Council now has a Community Strategic Plan (CSP) – its first – which identifies the main priorities and aspirations of the Inner West community, and provides a clear set of strategies to achieve this vision of the future.

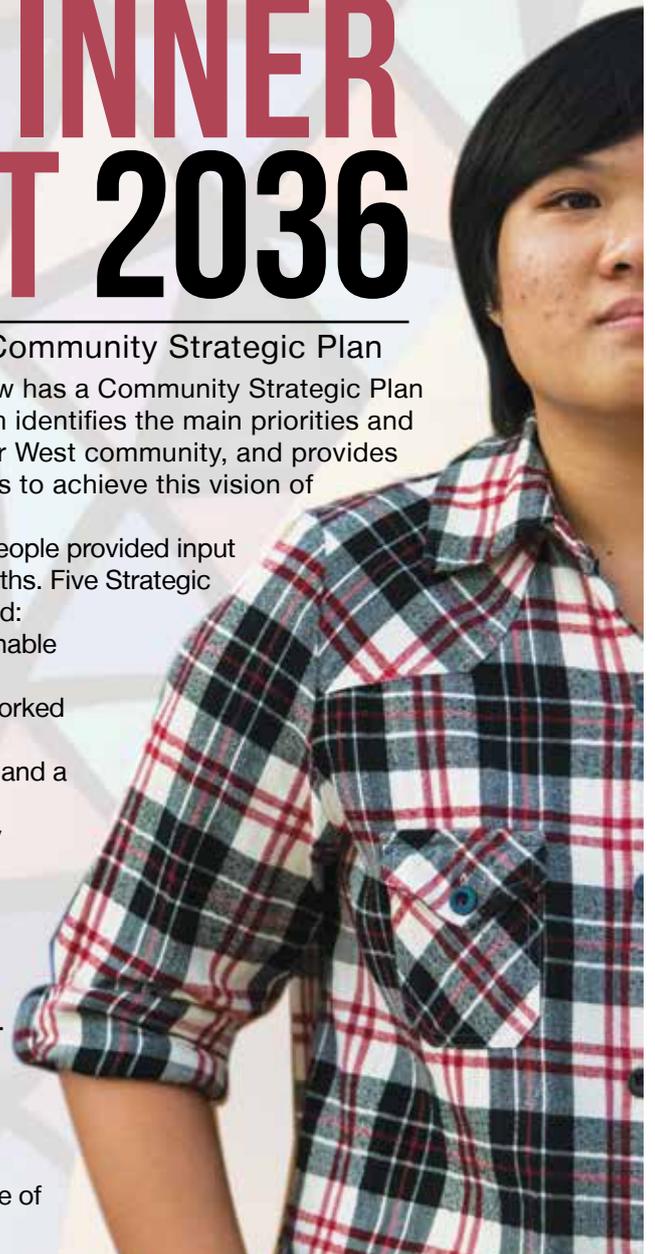

Approximately 7,000 people provided input over a period of 18 months. Five Strategic Directions were identified:

- An ecologically sustainable Inner West
- Unique, liveable, networked neighbourhoods
- Creative communities and a strong economy
- Caring, happy, healthy communities
- Progressive local leadership

"...the highest level of strategic planning undertaken by a local council..." – NSW Office of Local Government

"Young people should also get involved with their community... after all, we are the future of Inner West," says Anne Maree Hoang, Headspace volunteer and 2018 Young Citizen of the Year

GET YOUR FREE TREE

To mark National Tree Day, Council will once again give away free trees to residents. The tree giveaway is at Whites Creek Valley Park, Annandale on Sunday, 29 July, 10am-1pm.

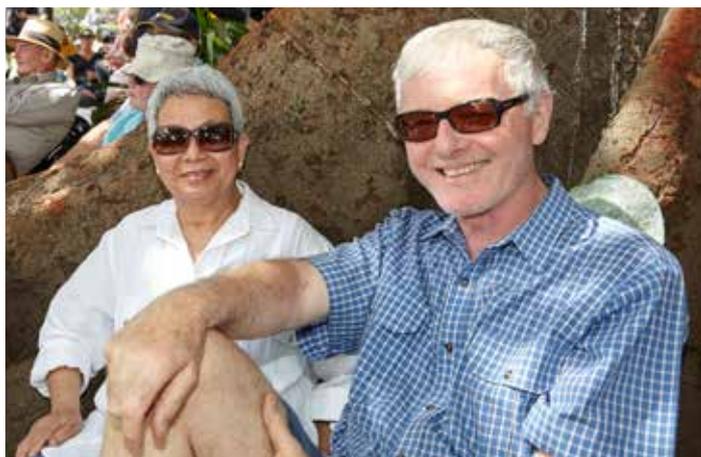

The trees are in advanced containers and include small, medium and large size natives: Banksia, Native Tea Tree, Eucalyptus, Callistemon, and Lilly Pilly. Limit of one tree per household and Inner West Council residents only www.innerwest.nsw.gov.au/trees

Last year, Council gave away 300 trees to Inner West residents.

REBATE SLASHES RATES FOR MANY PENSIONERS

Eligible pensioners (resident ratepayers for 10 years or more) will save as much as $485 on their rates bill, after Council harmonised waste management rebates across the three former council areas.

Under the former Leichhardt Council, pensioners did not pay for waste management (household recycling and green waste, garbage collection and disposal, clean-up and lane cleaning).

Now, eligible pensioners that live in the old Ashfield and Marrickville will also benefit. While these councils did have a rebate system, it was not as generous:

Former Council	Old rebate	New rebate
Marrickville	$93	$578
Ashfield	$75	$387

To find out more about all pensioner rebates available to Inner West Council residents, go to www.innerwest.nsw.gov.au/council/rates/rebates-for-pensioners

COUNCIL'S NEW WEBSITE COMING SOON

Over 1,200 Inner West citizens helped Council develop the new website, using information like: why people use the site, how they find information, and the top 12 searches.

The improved What's On calendar is easier to use, and allows everyone to upload and edit their own Inner West events.

Plus, simply type in an address and find nearby places, facilities, services and events with the new Around the Inner West mapping tool.

Council worked closely with accessibility consultants, Accessibility Oz, to ensure the site meets Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) Level AA compliant website.

The new website will also host a new customer service system, allowing citizens to log their requests online, anywhere, anytime, from any type of device.

The system also has a tracking option, with both 'received' and 'completed' notifications allowing customers to track their requests online.

GOT TRICKY WASTE?

Council's 'Tricky Waste Items' webpage lists all the options Council provides to residents to get rid of stuff that shouldn't go into household bins – e-waste, chemicals, bulky household items, sharps and anything that's difficult to recycle.

As well as an 'A-Z What goes where?', you'll find dates for household chemical and e-waste drop offs, and recycling centre locations such as the Weekend Transfer Station* in Leichhardt, which accepts excess waste and recycling for an additional charge (e-waste is free).

*From Sunday, 1 July, the Weekend Transfer Station is going cashless. Card payments preferred. www.innerwest.nsw.gov.au/WTS
