HISTORICA
Mrs E	Elizabeth Underwood adivsed the future villagers of Ashfield in the	Sydney Herald in 1	838 that she had set aside on acre of her cototo iorthe	e erection of a church. In 1840 a new ecclesiastical district centred	on Ashfield was f	ormed, the first Rector being the Revd J Kidd Walpo	ole. The foundation stone of a church was laid by Bishop Broughto	on in 1840, but prol	plems with brickwork resulted in Blacket being called	in and the church being re-erected under his direction. The first s	ection was comple	ted in 1843 and consecrated in 1845. The third Recto	or, the Revd. Fred Wilkinson, carved the reredos and screen to Black	cket's design. Abo	ut 1845 the roof was strengthened by the install	ation of timber support columns, and internal roof lining was install	ed in 1885. Stone	transepts and chancel designed by Blacket were a	added in 1874, and choir vestry and porch (Blacket Bros) 1885. In	1901, Arthur Black	et designed the west tower named the Corlet	tte Memorial Tower in honour of the 33 years of service as Rector of	of Dr Corlette who	had died in 1901.
