Dream with your eyes open and write a short story about your wildest daydream.

We are always in a day-dream,
life might not be what it seems.

What is real?

What is a meal?

Are we going up the hill?

Or are we a drop of water about to spill?

Is the ocean just a drop?

Or is it a bucket for a mop?

Are we eating an apple from a tree?

Or are we going to jail for eating for free?

Are we having fun?

Or are we really glum?

Is this goodbye?

Or is this just saying 'hi'?
