

Writing competition

Reading is magic and can transport you to amazing and curious places.

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

It was a usual Monday morning as I was bored and feeling blue in my bedroom. I wanted to go somewhere like Timezone. With nothing else to do, I took pencil to paper and started writing about the video, games, noises, fun and excitement to do. Anything that would kill the boredom and cheer me up.

After I read what I had written down, I felt the urge to snap my fingers, wishing that it would come true. To my surprise, I suddenly found myself in Timezone.

How did I get here? Is this a dream? I find myself holding the pieces of paper so tightly my knuckles turned white. My mind started racing and I remembered this happened after I read something I had written down and snapped my fingers. So with a trembling hand, I started writing about being bored in my bedroom. I snapped my fingers and find myself in my bedroom once more. This time there was no surprise.

Writing competition

Reading is magic and can transport you to amazing and curious places.

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

How did I get this ability? Can I time travel using it, if I can, can I bring someone back alive? Should I use it to help the world? I wondered what is the potential power of this ability, what would life be hiding this ability. Then I thought to myself, Australia needs an improved climate change because we haven't reached our goal of making it forty-three percent better.

So with a smile on my face, I wrote that I was with Isaac Newton when the apple fell off the tree. Feeling nervous and excited, I snapped my fingers.