Write a short story about an amazing and unforgettable adventure.

One sunny morning, Max, Jack and Zac were in their tree house working on their plan to see what country is on earth. Max said "we should build a time machine to see what countries are on earth". Jack and Zac agreed to make a time machine, so they raced to the scrap yard of cars and brought heaps of stuff from the scrap yard. So they started building their time machine and it was done. They plunged in the first country Italy and the time machine spun faster and faster, when the time machine stopped spinning max opened the door and then they were in Italy. There were famous people, pizza restaurant and boats. Max, jack and zac were shocked.

They went out of their time machine. By the time they got out of their time machine, it was lunch time. zac said "Let's go to the Italian pizza restaurant". And max and jack agreed to go there.
So they ordered a cheese pizza and it was good. Max said
"we should go to the next country". So they went to their time machine and plugged in the next country child. The time machine spun faster and faster again.

And when it stopped spinning fast, jack opened the door.
They were in China! So
machine and explored the town of China. There were colorful lights, China shops and dragons (but they are not real).
Max, Jack and zac ate China food and had to go to their third country. So they went to their time machine and plugged in their third country South Korea. So the time machine was spinning even faster and faster! And when it stopped spinning faster, Zac opened door. They were in South Korea! There were Korean apartment, Korean food and a Korean playground! But the time machine was on low battery and they had to go to their final country Japan. So they raced to their time machine and plugged in their final country Japan. The time machine spun so fast it stopped and Max opened the door. They were in Japan. They explored Japan quickly and ran to their time machine. Jack asked "will this work?" Max and Zac said "we think so." Then they plugged in home. And the time machine spun faster a little bit. Then Max, Jack and Zac opened the door together. They were back home again. Well that was cool! So they raced to the tree house and they will never forget what countries are on earth.
