

A magic adventure

"Ha Ha", the sound of laughter echoed through Keystone Ancient Forest. The Williams Sisters were playing tips together. The 10 year olds were very obedient. Apart from their similarities they were quite different. Rose loved studying and was quiet but very smart. Nina was always telling jokes and was very kind. Mila was loud and didn't really like school. The Williams had two huskies Snowflake and Winter, they were as loyal as dogs could get. The parents were as caring as the girls. Plus they were also very funny.

The sisters were laughing hysterically when suddenly, snow was falling very hard. It was snowing so hard that the door to the hut jammed, which meant the parents couldn't help. They all panicked trying to find their way through the snow. The problem was they couldn't see and began walking the wrong way!

Later, the sisters found they were lost. They were wondering what to do when Rose spoke up "I know, we should ask the magic tree" "oh yeah" replied Nina and Mila. Since they exactly where the tree was they began running to the exact spot where the tree was. They then explained to her what happened. The magic tree always knew exactly what to do in difficult situations like this.

Once the girls explained to the magic tree what had happened she replied "Okay". Then paused for a moment "oh I know" she said. "I will give you three riddles and you have to find out what I am talking about the bring it to me, okay?" "yes" replied the sisters in unison. "Here's your first riddle" said the tree.

"Every colour covers this object,
Its magic pull may bring you to a trance.
Under the nut tree,
Its rainbow vibes dance."

"I know what it is!" exclaimed Nina "It's a rainbow leaf."
She said guiding the sisters. They collected the leaf then rushed back. "Good" said the tree. "Here's your Next one."

"In a fluster of bushes,
Where a cooling wind blows,
a smooth piece of fabric,
whisps, dashes and flows."

"I've got this one," said Mita, "It's a ribbon!" "Come on!"
So they ran to a clearing, untied the ribbon from a tree
then rushed to the magic tree. "Okay," said the tree
"Last one"

"A famous healing plant
Lies far ahead
Its golden petals sway
In a magic garden bed."

"This one's easy," said Rose "It's a medicine flower" So they ran to the only magic garden in the the forest, picked the flower then ran back to the tree. "Okay" said
the tree. "Now you must put them in this order: Ribbon, flower then leaf." So the sisters did as she asked and a path formed in the snow. "Follow this path, to get to the ice spirit's glaze," said the tree. "Yes" replied the sisters.

So they ran along the path then told the spirit what happened. "oh" She replied "you need a spell" "Here we go"

"Magic Angel of Love and hope, please help the children easily cope."

The angel then appeared on her floating lily and said "Hello and yes. I will" "Thank you" said the spirit. "oh and you'll need this" She then handed them a piece of paper with a spell on it. So they flew home on the lily and realised the spell was to open the door! So the sisters read out the spell in unison:

Magic. Magic without a cut,
Could you please open the door to this hut"

The door then unlocked and they greeted their parents with a big hug.
